

As part of NACC's 30th Anniversary celebrations we have arranged an afternoon meeting for Saturday 27th March, 12-4pm at Our Dynamic Earth, Edinburgh. All our Scottish members have been invited but anyone interested in IBD can attend on a strictly first-come-first-served basis.

This is an informal event that is free of charge and attendees will have the opportunity to hear about "What's new in IBD" from leading researcher and clinician Professor Jack Satsangi, as well as current thinking on "Food and IBD" from a dietician who has a special interest in IBD. One of our members, Denise Cann, will also be presenting her personal reflections of "Living with IBD".

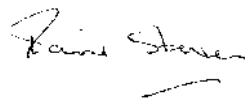

The programme for this event is attached; a light lunch is included. As well as being updated on the various topics, attendees will have the opportunity to meet others from across the country, share experience and hear of NACC developments and future plans.

I do hope you will be able to share in NACC's 30th celebrations by joining us at this meeting. If you wish to attend please email wendyc@nacc.org.uk with your name, address, postcode, telephone number and numbers attending before Saturday 13th March.

Places are limited and this event is on a first-come-first-served basis so it is essential that you let us know as soon as possible if you would like to attend.

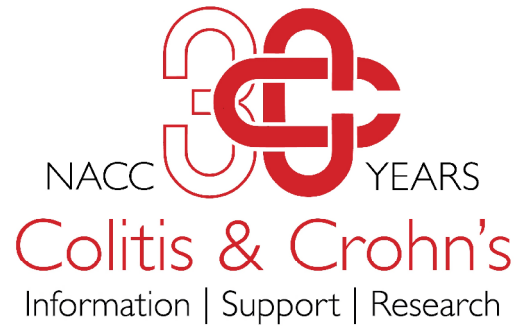

I do hope that I may look forward to meeting you soon.

Kind regards

Elaine Steven
